SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL

BY RICHARD B SHERIDAN

She isn't.

But she's starting to think if her husband believes it, she may as well give it a go. After all, if you're going to cause a scandal, you might as well enjoy it...

Deliciously naughty and outrageously silly, this timeless comedy is a masterclass in social satire and the art of gossip.

Featuring an unforgettable cast of larger-than-life characters, each armed with a lacerating wit, The School for Scandal is one of the greatest comedies ever written. Join us for a lightning-paced evening of romance, revenge and rollicking fun that promises to leave you entertained, enamoured - and perhaps even a little scandalised!

Meanwhile, revered band leader, Danny, battles to keep his dispirited band of brass-playing miners together with the dream of qualifying for the National Championships at London’s Albert Hall.

North Cumbria Scriptwriters present the six winners of the Lonely Cloud competition, Act Your Age, that was publicised via the BBC Writersroom.

This evening offers a variety of themes and emotions, all with a common link: "Act Your Age". Some are light-hearted: meet a cleverly enterprising restaurant waiter, for example, or an over-optimistic tribute band promoter.

Others are more thought-provoking: witness a grandma gardening towards trouble or foresee a distressing example of where AI could take us.

The winners of the Act Your Age competition were chosen by theatre maker, writer and producer and TBTL Associate Artist, Melina Barnett. These six short plays will be performed by community actors at TBTL and give a flavour of what scriptwriters with a link to Cumbria are up to these days.

The show will be followed by a discussion with the members of North Cumbria Scriptwriters and actors.

PERCY KELLY EXHIBITION

In 2024 Theatre by the Lake will host an extraordinary exhibition of the works of acclaimed West Cumbrian artist Percy Kelly, including never before seen footage of his works on 8mm.

In Spring 2023 Chris Wadsworth, founder of Castlegate House Gallery and representative of the Percy Kelly estate, received a mysterious email asking if she would be interested in a film and a letter from the artist himself addressed to a gallery owner in Paris. Chris replied with caution; Percy died 30 years ago leaving nothing about ever being in Paris. The correspondent had not been able to watch the 8mm cinefilm footage, but the letter, signed and dated 1964, proved to be genuine. What followed is an astonishing tale, which is still unfolding today.

Alongside the opportunity to view this never-before seen film, this special exhibition will support Theatre by the Lake with proceeds from sales of paintings, drawings and original prints donated to the theatre.

“Out of West Cumbria, a region largely marooned by the overly romanticised Lake District, Percy Kelly drew from a darker, more humble landscape. He emphasised the bleakness of the lichen green fells and the steely scales of the distant peaks.

He celebrated the forgotten fishing ports which line the industrial coast south of the Solway and the terraces of the mining villages.

For him they were places of mist and rain and intense aloneness.

“This complex man is to be found in every one of his landscapes... Each place was deeply felt.”

Andy Christian, Artist, writer, critic, curator writing in the prologue to the Kelly biography The Man Who Couldn't Stop Drawing: The Extraordinary Life of Percy Kelly

OPERA EVENING

Four Singers and Five Fabulous Musicians

Main House

Wednesday 12 June, 7.30pm

Tickets: £32 - £5

Wild Arts return to Keswick for another evening of opera highlights woven into a wonderful story of love and passion, wit and skulduggery.

These enchanting evenings of beautiful music have been gaining a great following in the last couple of years in theatres and stately homes around the country, so we are delighted to bring them back to Theatre by the Lake.

Expect some of the greatest hits of opera - arias, duets and ensembles - by Mozart, Puccini, Verdi and more, mostly sung in English by four exceptional young professional singers who are regularly on the stage at the world's great opera houses, accompanied by a live string quintet of top professional musicians.

When operas were the musicals of the day, leading composers frequently staged composite productions using some of their own music blended with the best bits of other composers' works, linked together within a more-or-less new story to showcase the most popular songs.

This evening brings the concept up to date and follows the four characters through a riot of opera blended with some classic hits from the musicals along with some surprises and gems from four centuries of great music. Wit, passion, comedy, tragedy... as you'd expect, it's all here.
